WIFE WHO WANTS TO JOIN HER HUSBAND AT MOLOKAI

THE SELF-SACRIFICING LOVE of woman never had a brighter light shown upon it than in the letter of a leper addressed to the Board of Health, which was read at a meeting of that body yesterday. Geo. Kanikau, a resident of Molokai, writing to the Board for permission for his wife to join him at the Settlement, says that she longs to be with him and is willing to spend all her remaining years in the colony of the diseased. The matter was referred to Superintendent Reynolds of the Settlement, who will give the necessary permission and see that the wife is sent to the leper colony. The following is the letter of Kanikau to the Board:

Kalaupapa, November 23, 1900.
Honorable Board of Health.
Your humble servant does hereby petition that a permission be granted my wife, Mrs. Caroline Kanikau to enter into the Leper Settlement and live with your petitioner and to be his kokua or helper, for the following reasons:
First, that your petitioner has almost lost the use of one of his arms. I was by a physician that it was caused by constant washing and bathing in water, a thing which cannot be avoided unless a helper is gotten. Your petitioner is also afraid that he will lose the use of the other arm also in the near future.
Second, that sitting by the fire when cooking or ironing will rapidly increase the spreading of the disease.
Your petitioner hopes that by being allowed to have a kokua or helper the increasing of the disease will be checked. A little and also some part by home life will be had to the unfortunate. My wife is willing to live with me in the Settlement, if permission is granted, as she is without living relatives. She is at present living with some of my relatives. Hoping that your servant's petition will be brought to your honest consideration, I remain, yours very respectfully,
GEORGE KANIKAU.

DO NOT TALK ABOUT CUBA

Does Not Think Annexation Yet a Practical Issue.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—As a result of Secretary Root's recent inspection of Cuba, says a Herald dispatch from Washington, it seems certain that no annexation of the island will be recommended to Congress for enactment at the coming session, and that the island will be permitted to remain as it is.
Secretary Root's trip was undertaken for the interest of his health, but took advantage of the opportunity to examine the conditions which are prevailing in the island.
"My trip," Mr. Root said last night, "was simply a continuation of that which I made last spring. At that time I visited the western part of Cuba and examined conditions prevailing there. I desired to see for myself the conditions existing in eastern Cuba, and went directly to that part of the island."
"I found the people generally peaceable and contented and pursuing their ordinary avocations. The island is becoming steadily more prosperous and the people seem to be satisfied."
"What was the sentiment in the western part of the island in respect to annexation or independence?" the Secretary was asked.
"I can't answer that question," Mr. Root responded.
"Is the Cuban convention making progress in the preparation of a constitution?"
"I did not have an opportunity to attend the session of the convention. I know my trip was devoted to the western part of the island, and all I saw was that conditions there were about the same as I found them last spring in the western section."
This reference to his investigation of the western part of the island is taken to mean that Mr. Root has concluded that practically all Cubans are in favor of acquiring education in the art of self-government, and that they are not impatient to assume the direction of their own affairs. At the same time, he said, he appreciates that the great desire of the Cuban people to try the experiment of self-government, even if the experiment should fail and annexation to the United States should follow, is said also that Mr. Root does not believe annexation at this time is a practical question, and he is giving it no consideration. He would not discuss any such question last night.

The Big Corn Deal.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—It was authoritatively announced today that the big corn "squeeze" on the Board of Trade, which has been conducted by George H. Phillips, is off. Phillips, it is stated, made private settlements yesterday with all the big shorts on the basis of 50 cents a bushel and today he is said to hold not more than 25,000 bushels of November corn. When the announcement was made the price quickly dropped from 49 cents to 41 cents.

BALTIMOREAN OR BRITISHER—WHICH?

Interesting Suit Involving the Millions of William L. Winans.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The Lord Chief Justice's court is occupied at present with determining whether the late William L. Winans, formerly of Baltimore, Md., was a domiciled resident of Great Britain when he died in 1897. This question is being tested on account of a legacy of £2,000 willed to his sister-in-law, Ellen Delorse, on which the Crown claims a legacy duty. As the Attorney General smilingly remarked, the decision of course will affect the whole of Mr. Winans' millions, and counsel for the Crown proceeded to recount the estates and shootings leased by Mr. Winans on which he lavished enormous sums of money, including £70,000 on the shooting leased from Lord Lovat, "constituting," contended the Attorney General, "ample proof of his settlement in this country." Walter Winans testified that his father always regarded Baltimore as his home.
The court decided in favor of the Crown and against Winans.

Gen. French's column is said to have had a narrow escape from capture in the Transvaal and Bloemfontein is in danger.

FROEBEL'S TEACHINGS

the marigold from marigold seed. Some day we take a well-defined flower, the tulip for instance, notice the essential parts of the flower and their uses, learn the connection bees, moths and the wind have with flowers; we notice the wise protection of seeds and the various methods of distribution and the uses of trees, plants, fruits and seeds. Are not these things the true essence of botany? We watch the lives of insects, birds and animals; notice their homes, their modes of protection, their preparation for changing seasons, their methods of defense; learn their relation to each other and to man. Is not zoology of deepest worth when teaching us interdependence?

In the dyeing of cloths and fibres, in the cooking lessons, the making of jellies is there not a little of chemistry, with mathematics in the careful measurements; even geography as we watch the volcanoes formed as the germs boil, and learn a larger truth from this small one?

You may consider luncheon and table manners to have no connection with higher education. Yet so closely are they connected that when a wise and learned man exhibits poor table manners we of better manners and lesser knowledge at once consider ourselves immeasurably his superiors. In kindergarten by means of our luncheons we learn simple lessons in good table manners and courtesy, and we learn to appreciate the cook at home by washing the dishes after luncheon.

In the matter of discipline the kindergarten and school are again closely connected; that is, if the teachers are wise enough to be just. For it is not so much merely as justice that we need in life, and if a child is led early in life to see and feel the relation of cause and effect, of act and result, of the wonderful law controlling all actions and deeds, ought not his later life to be an easier, freer one?

In conclusion let me quote from Stevenson for the teachers in any of life's branches: "A spirit communicated is a perpetual possession. These best teachers climb beyond teaching to the plane of art; it is themselves, and what is best in themselves that they communicate;" and from Dr. Harris, United States Commissioner of Education, let me quote: "In my opinion the kindergarten should be a part of the public school system in every city in the United States."

Women's Boarding Home.

The quarterly meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association was held last evening in Progress Hall, when the proposed women's boarding home was discussed informally. No definite plan of action has been decided upon as to what style of building shall be erected, the price per month for boarding in the institution, or the price per share for the stock.
